

CACI to Showcase Solutions at AUSA Annual Meeting That Advance U.S. Army Modernization and Enhance Readiness

Arlington, Va., October 4, 2018 - CACI International Inc (NYSE: CACI) announced today that it will showcase industry-leading technologies and innovative solutions to support America's Armed Forces at the Association of the U.S. Army \(AUSA\) Annual Meeting and Exposition on October 8-10, 2018 at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in Washington, DC. The annual conference brings together Army leadership, industry experts, academia, and land power specialists from around the world to discuss the issues and challenges facing the U.S. and the defense community today.

At the conference, CACI will demonstrate advanced technologies and solutions that support the Army's enduring modernization priorities and enhance readiness. Specifically, CACI will showcase a suite of innovative electronic warfare capabilities that enhance soldier effectiveness and survivability in today's multi-domain battle. These solutions include its SkyTracker™ Technology Suite, a set of modular, software-defined counter-unmanned aircraft systems to protect critical national security assets.

In addition, CACI will demonstrate a Deep Learning framework that speeds object identification within massive data sets, providing decision-makers with highly effective tools for accurately and efficiently compiling critical information. Other demonstrations will include solutions for cross-domain cloud migration with best-of-breed cyber defense; next-generation IT and secure communications for the battlefield; CACI's industry-recognized Agile Solution Factory and DevSecOps methodologies to modernize mission applications and business systems; and the solution for the Integrated Personnel and Pay System-Army, the largest PeopleSoft® implementation in the world.
