

CACI Wins $785 Million Task Order with U.S. Army Special Operations Command

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE: CACI) has been awarded a new five-year single-award task order worth potentially $785 million for Special Operations Forces Emerging Threats, Operations, and Planning Support (SOFETOPS). CACI will provide expertise in integrated information warfare (IW) and electronic warfare (EW) solutions, training, readiness, and modernization to advance U.S. Army Special Operations Command (USASOC) missions.

John Mengucci, CACI President and Chief Executive Officer, said, "CACI's mission expertise in operational support, intelligence analysis, technology integration, and training will help Special Operations Forces adapt to the current and future threat environment. Our experts will leverage advanced solutions for our mission partners and deliver training models based on first-hand experiences to prepare trainees with realistic scenarios."

This task order expands CACI's support to USASOC, its strategic partners, and other special operations commands by offering new capabilities driven by emerging needs and continually evolving mission requirements. CACI will also further refine and improve interoperability, coordination, and synchronization between USASOC and its strategic partners. It has a one-year base period of performance, four one-year options, and was awarded under the General Services Administration (GSA) One Acquisition Solution for Integrated Services (OASIS) multiple award indefinite delivery, indefinite quantity contract vehicle.
