

CACI to Enhance U.S. Navy Cybersecurity and Engineering Capabilities

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE: CACI) announced today that it has been awarded a five-year expertise task order valued at up to $85 million to continue providing critical engineering and technical support to ships, submarines, and other naval vehicles for the U.S. Navy Naval Surface Warfare Center (NSWC) Carderock Division's Naval Architecture and Engineering Department.

“CACI is committed to ensuring the U.S. fleet maintains superior capabilities to stay ahead of our adversaries as new threats are always emerging,” said John Mengucci, CACI President and Chief Executive Officer. “Through our advanced technical support, robust cybersecurity measures, and innovative software-defined solutions, CACI is not only enhancing the Navy's operational resources but also setting new standards for efficiency and security in naval engineering.”

Under the U.S. Navy SeaPort Next Generation (NxG) contract vehicle, CACI will offer data analysis, software development, and control system enhancements to improve the design and operation of naval vessels. CACI's robust cybersecurity expertise protects critical naval systems and information, safeguarding the integrity and security of sensitive data. Through innovative software solutions for ship design and automatic control systems, CACI is enhancing efficiency and effectiveness in developing and maintaining advanced naval capacities.
