

Jimmy Norcross Named to Nextgov/FCW 2026 Federal 100

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE: CACI) announced today that Jimmy Norcross, CACI executive vice president, Digital and Enterprise Solutions, has been named to the prestigious Nextgov/FCW Federal 100. Regarded as one of the highest honors for the federal IT community, the award recognizes individuals who went far beyond their assigned duties to shape their organizations and the nation's agenda over the past year.

"Jimmy embodies CACI's ethos to expand the limits of national security, and we are proud that his incredible work with the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has been recognized," said John Mengucci, CACI President and Chief Executive Officer. "His experience modernizing legacy systems, deploying responsible artificial intelligence, and executing complex cloud migrations directly enabled the success of this valued customer's mission success. In a year defined by operational efficiency and optimization, Jimmy provided the clarity, discipline, and credibility required to ensure lasting improvements."

In 2025, Norcross was responsible for delivering transformative impact to one of the government's most complex tasks by improving efficiency, reliability, and modernization for backend IT applications for U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP). He led an effort that scaled AI-enabled development, automated testing, and disciplined delivery models that increased release velocity while maintaining near-perfect quality. Under his leadership, software release velocity more than doubled while sustaining 99% defect-free quality, enabling over 1,000 releases annually at the speed border patrol agents require.

"It is an honor to be among the Fed100's list of leaders and to be recognized for the work we are doing in federal digital transformation to provide unparalleled mission outcomes to our partners at DHS," said Norcross.
