

CACI's Jeffrey MacLauchlan Named 'CFO of the Year' by the Northern Virginia Technology Council

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE: CACI) announced today that Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer, and Treasurer Jeffrey MacLauchlan has been named Public Company CFO of the Year by the Northern Virginia Technology Council (NVTC). MacLauchlan was recognized for his achievements in calendar year 2025.

"I'm honored to receive this prestigious recognition from NVTC," said MacLauchlan. "This award reflects the disciplined execution and hard work of CACI's leadership team, finance, and operations teams in delivering strong results for our customers and shareholders."

Under MacLauchlan's leadership, CACI delivered record financial performance in calendar year 2025, including nearly $9 billion in revenue representing 10.4% year-over-year growth, and a 16.4% increase in EBITDA, driven by strong program execution and a growing technology footprint. He oversaw disciplined capital deployment and key strategic transactions that strengthened CACI's long-term financial position.

"Jeff's impact on CACI is both strategic and measurable," said John Mengucci, CACI President and Chief Executive Officer. "His prudent financial stewardship, unwavering commitment to our long-term strategy, and proven ability to manage through complex market environments have strengthened our company and accelerated our path to future growth."

NVTC's annual CFO Awards recognizes finance professionals for their exceptional contribution to the economic growth of the Northern Virginia region's tech community. The 2026 Tech CFO Awards ceremony was held on Monday, June 1 in McLean, Virginia.
